

CRJ 605: Mini Presentation

Instructions

Your mini presentation should be in the format of a conference style presentation. You have a fixed amount of time for the presentation. Single-person presentations will be allotted 5 minutes and two-person presentations will be allotted 8 minutes. I will strictly enforce the time, so please practice your presentation.

Please email me the 1) title of your presentation and 2) slides in .pdf format by 2/27 by 10am. I will then compile the schedule and post it to Canvas (as well as your slides). Failure to submit title and slides by the deadline will result in the loss of points.

Your presentation should include the following sections (worth 80 points):

Overview

What are you doing?

What is the motivation for doing this?

Literature review

What do we know about the topic?

What do we not know about the topic that will be addressed by your study?

Why a network approach?

Research questions

What are you doing, precisely?

What are the questions that you will examine?

Data

What are the data you are going to use?

What sort of network data are you using?

What are your operational measures?

Analyses

What analyses are you going to perform? (If you don't know exactly what you will do, then explain, conceptually, what you would need to do).

Additionally, you are required to write at least 1 question/comment for each presenter (worth 20 points):

On the day of the mini presentations, I will give a handout with space for questions/comments. After class, you will:

1. Type up each question/comment and submit the document to me by 3/1 by 10am to receive credit.
2. Email your question/comment to each individual presenter.
